A declaration is to be made in respect of interests held on the date on which the duty to make the declaration arose. Where required by the registration form, a declaration must also be made in respect of the interests held on that date by a child or spouse of the declarant.

Where a person has made a declaration on the date of his acceptance of a nomination as an election candidate, he is not required, if elected, to make a further declaration on the date that he makes an oath of allegiance of affirmation in accordance with section 60(3) of the Cayman Islands Constitution Order 2009.

WHEN TO MAKE A DECLARATION

A declaration must be made –

- (c) the date on which the person having the occupation specified in paragraph 9 of Schedule 1 first attends a meeting of the Legislative Assembly or any of its committees in the capacity of a journalist or reporter.

Where a declarant, other than a journalist, who has made a declaration of interests, subsequently acquires a beneficial interest in property additional to that referred to in his previous declaration or declarations, he or she must within 28 days of the acquisition, make a further declaration of interest in respect of the interest in that additional property.
